PETER HEENAN AGAIN STAGES FILIBUSTER

Ottawa, April 28.—Amendments forbidding amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways and making branch line abandonment subject to the approval of the board of railway commissioners, were inserted in the government's railway bill, yesterday. They were proposed by Hon. W. J. Macdonald, minister of railways, and passed without opposition.

The day was given over to consideration of the railway legislation with Hon. Peter Heenan, former minister of labor, proposing to another one-man filibuster for three hours. His colleagues, however, were thrown out of work and a political free-for-all in the evening.

Mr. Heenan, Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, and the railway minister crossed words in a short, but extremely lively passage just before the closing hour.

FORCED SIR HENRY

The Liberal leader accused the government of forcing Sir Henry Thornton, former president of the Canadian National, to resign as a director of the Royal Bank. Sir Henry himself as the authority. During a series of questions, however, the deputy speaker suggested that Sir Henry had been forced to resign, the former minister exclaimed "It is a funny thing that if anybody tries to force me out of office, I am the only man who is not out of office."

Mr. Heenan was withdrawn after, after a short time, from the speaker's "necessary measures" must be taken.

KING-MANION SKIRMISH

According to representations of the Liberal leader, the minister inserted an amendment stipulating that no bill would not prevail over the industrial dispute act.

The King-Manion skirmish arose from an amendment proposed by the government which would enable trustees of the Canadian National to be directors of the Royal Bank. George Palmer, senior partner of Bole, Inc., rented the entire floor of a Chicago hotel for a day.

HAS ENTIRE HOTEL FLOOR

Just so that a few sheep, dog, could have plenty of room, Mr. Palmer, senior partner of Bole, Inc., rented the entire floor of a Chicago hotel for a day.

HOUSE TAKES UP WIVES OF PENSION BODY

Ottawa, April 28.—Consideration of the bill amending the Pension Act was begun yesterday.

This legislation, based upon the report of Mr. Justice Audette, who presided over the joint committee which last winter investigated the administration of the Act, revises the whole pension machinery. The extent to which the members of that committee have agreed or disagreed in such a revision was explored by the committee.

Abolition of the tribunals and enlargement of the board of pension commissioners, together with the turning over to the board of the duties formerly performed by the tribunals, was opposed by spokesmen for the pension body.

ONCE ACQUIRED

The ex-service men had acquiesced in a proposal the two bodies be completely merged and that only one court of first instance be established. They did not, however, favor the new machinery contemplated under this revision.

The veterans were also somewhat concerned about the appointment of a reviewing officer whose duties, under the direction of the chairman of the pension appeal court, would be to determine whether the appeal board might be reopened and re-adjusted.

The committee, which engaged today in a general discussion on the principles of the bill, adjourned until Tuesday. The probability is that the bill will be passed by the House by the end of the month.

TOO MUCH POWER

This in their opinion, was too much power to be given to the committee by J. R. Bowler, general secretary of the Canadian Legion, would be giving too much power to one man.

Equally were the veterans angry against the proposal that the decisions given by the federal appeal board might be reopened and re-adjusted.

The committee, which engaged today in a general discussion on the principles of the bill, adjourned until Tuesday. The probability is that the bill will be passed by the House by the end of the month.

70-YEAR PIONEER OF B. C. IS DEAD

VICTORIA, April 28.—Mrs. Mary Bevan, widow of the late James Bevan, and a resident of this province for 70 years, is dead here, aged 94.

Mrs. Bevan was born in Devonshire, England, and came to Canada with her husband, who went to Barkerville in the Cariboo in 1868 to start an Anglican church.

Letters of protest were sent to the Victoria from many of the prominent citizens and other declaring that the family would stay in the city and that the family of five children faced hardship and privation and went to the first of their destroyed Barkerville five.

They had a hard fight to make because of the mining town. The family had built a small house, the "Saviour's," which still stands. The family had a hard fight to make because of the mining town. ### WHAT PRICE CLOSED SCHOOLS?

The Vancouver school board says it will have to close the schools for a month in order to keep within the limits of its "economy" budget.

That will interest Edmontonians because the Edmonton council and school board are advised to look to Vancouver for an example as to how, and at what extent they could and should slash expenditures.

There are a good many civic services Edmonton taxpayers could and should get along with rather than close the schools for a month as a means of cutting a mill or two off the tax rate. That kind of economy costs more than it is worth.

ANOTHER "BARTER" PROPOSAL

The suggestion is made at Toronto that Canada exchange eight convicted "reds" now in the Kingston penitentiary for the two British engineers who are prisoned at Moscow.

There would seem to be ground for a mutually satisfactory "swap." Russia probably does not want McDonald and Thornton any more than Canada wants the communists it has locked up. Each country is out of the board of lodging and guarding the prisoners; they were exchanged because they could support themselves.

Russia would probably want the British embargo against its products removed as a condition of the Canadian loan interests would be faster. They would argue that Canada had nothing to do with McDonald and Thornton going to Russia and it is not called for to sacrifice commercial advantages to get them out.

There is a broader consideration, however, which deserves attention. The break in relations between Britain and Russia has done nothing to improve the outlook for peace in Europe, disarmament and international good feeling. It would be worth some sacrifice to help introduce an element of sanity into the politics of that distracted continent. If there is any chance of doing so by giving the eight "reds" free passage to Russia, by all means let it be done.

ALL AGREED AT LAST

Premier Bennett finally admits Canada is off gold, and has been off for a year and a half. The admission is made in a speech which is the veriest untruth. He is the only man who has entertained any doubts on the subject, or claimed to have any.

There is nothing in the specious suggestion that the country owes the Premier a debt of gratitude for not making the admission sooner. The credit would have gone to pieces and our dollar to the "howl" ones if he had frankly stated the fact when he prohibited the export of gold from Canada.

He did not do anything of the kind. He made the headlines, for a moment by pretending that we were only technically off the standard but still on it in reality. They knew better without being told, and whatever they might be told. And they acted accordingly.

Our dollar promptly went into discount, and stayed there. The taxpayers of the Dominion, of the provinces, and of the municipalities, have since been paying a premium up to seventeen per cent on bonds held in the United States, and on an equal volume of bonds held in Canada but payable in terms of United States money.

They would have paid no more if Ottawa had simply admitted its departure from the standard when that departure was made. The discount was imposed because anything but that was made and did not say. It was imposed because our supposedly gold dollar was worth only 85 cents in U.S. It would have been better to have said so than let whatever a premier might have said or refrained from saying about its existing relation to gold.

THE NEW SITUATION

Premier Bracken has introduced in the Manitoba legislature a resolution urging joint action by the Dominion and the provinces along the lines which were pursued in Australia, New Zealand and Great Britain with a view to raising commodity prices and reducing interest rates.

Mention of course that the Canadian dollar should be devalued; that public bond issues should be converted into securities carrying higher interest charges; and that means should be taken to provide an ample supply of cheap money for business use and business investment.

Half these things have been done a year ago, before two years ago, Canada would have benefited greatly, as Britain, Australia and New Zealand have benefited. The suggestion was registered, and the corresponding action that would have come to Canada is lost beyond recall.

A new situation has arisen, in which the individual country is less than the advantage of doing so is advantageously reduced. The United States "beat us in it" in the deflation of its currency. That three international exchange into chaos. The world conference, meeting in a few weeks, is to tackle the Canada would gain relatively little through deflating its dollar for this brief interval. By so doing it would be making a sacrifice of the value of its money for a few years. The price we failed to collect during the last two years. They are gone forever, and we may as well wait for the new deal that is to be made in London.

Refunding of course a different matter. So is the reduction of interest rates on private loans. Action on these subjects can and should be taken at once. Too much tax money goes to pay interest. Money for business is practically not obtainable. These are absurdities which can be corrected by action of parliament and the legislature, whatever may happen at London in regard to a world money standard.

When I would image her features,
Come up a shadowed head,
I would picture anything but that which she
She seems of the wandering dead.

But when love asks for nothing,
And lies on his bed of pain,
The face slips under my eyelids,
All in its living glow.

Like a dark cathedral sky,
Where dark spirit, and dower, and towers
Quiver in violet lightning,
My soul basks on for hours.

WHERE WE LEAD THE WORLD
The British government has declined to negotiate a trade treaty with France while that country maintains "discrimination against British goods." This discrimination is exercised by putting a dumping duty on French goods to offset the depreciation of British currency. France resorted to this expedient in November, 1931, two months after the franc had fallen to its present level, one of the glories of the Bennett government that it led the world in penalizing import from Great Britain following the abandonment by that country of the gold standard. France is one of the few countries that has followed our example. The United States authorities have resisted the efforts of special interest groups to make a trade treaty with France, and to the extent of the depreciation in British currency, and Britain imports in a great variety of goods from the United States in terms more favorable than those imported by Canada.

SIDE GLANCES - By George Clark

The newspaper story being circulated that W. L. Macdonald, the British minister, now serving a two-year term in Russia after being guilty of sabotage and espionage, made his confession of guilt (which is a matter of course) because he had been hypnotized, is about as lame an excuse as could well be offered. Authorities on hypnotism are agreed that a man cannot be hypnotized against his will.

The hypnotist story is not the first and certainly not the best explanation Macdonald offered. The first one, that he had made the confession under "third degree" questioning, and in the belief that his chief had confessed, was a better one. That he confessed under the belief that Thornton had confessed may well be the truth. Police officials on this continent are known to extract confessions by untruthful representation that the accomplice has confessed.

Changing the explanation of his confession from one that may be true to one that is unlikely to be true, will not carry conviction of innocence to many of Macdonald's countrymen.

Now that the trials are over and the sentences have been pronounced, the impression grows that the accused were given a substantially fair trial. It was not a trial under British rules, which held that the accused is innocent until he is proved guilty, or that would rather go by jury except than one innocent person should be adjudged guilty. Much of the procedure was strange to British readers, but substantial justice is provided for under the Russian judicial system is a fair assumption.

All of the Russians charged along with the British pleaded guilty and cast themselves on the mercy of the court. Nor did they plead for mercy in vain. A Canadian judge within the same week sentenced three youths to prison for life for robbery with violence. For admittedly conspiring against the safety of the Soviet government, causing damage to the Russian economy, and the success of the five-year plan, the heaviest sentence imposed by the Soviet judge was ten years in prison. For the same offences, the Russian judge imposed the eight months' imprisonment meted out to Macdonald's secretary, Anna Kutzova, who confessed her guilt.

Action taken by Britain, and threats to stop trading with Russia, have done the explanation of the comparatively light sentences imposed upon Thornton and Macdonald. For the comparatively light sentences imposed by the court upon the ten Russians who admitted guilt, no such explanation can be made. After all the harsh words that have been used in depicting the Soviet authorities as cruel and blood-thirsty, it must be admitted that the sentences of the Moscow court were marked with humanity.

The two great men were interested in the case, and not willing to let them go into new companies. But Curd would not be defeated. He and Napier gave an order for three steamships to be delivered in 1940. Curd being, meantime, awarded the mail carrying contract. He stood by the work, and on July 4, 1940 stood on the deck of the Britannia as she steamed out from Liverpool under the auspices of the British North American Steam Packet Company, which was soon to become the Cunard Line. Fourteen days later the Britannia steamed into Halifax harbor and the Atlantic steam service was an accomplished fact.

From 1840 to 1940 Curd acquired more steamships and won the monopoly of the Atlantic service by the ten per cent preference to which the order away from the other Baltic countries. If so, many a Canadian lumberman will bless the day of Curd's arrival in Halifax, which British had agreed to accept 380,000 board feet from Russia.

Finland, Sweden and probably United States are now so situated that they are now it is taken away from Russia. With the pound and the dollar coming close to parity, thanks to remaining in the pound sterling to slash the order away from the other Baltic countries. If so, many a Canadian lumberman will bless the day of Curd's arrival in Halifax, which British had agreed to accept 380,000 board feet from Russia.

All of the Russians charged along with the British pleaded guilty and cast themselves on the mercy of the court. Nor did they plead for mercy in vain. A Canadian judge within the same week sentenced three youths to prison for life for robbery with violence. For admittedly conspiring against the safety of the Soviet government, causing damage to the Russian economy, and the success of the five-year plan, the heaviest sentence imposed by the Soviet judge was ten years in prison. For the same offences, the Russian judge imposed the eight months' imprisonment meted out to Macdonald's secretary, Anna Kutzova, who confessed her guilt.

Action taken by Britain, and threats to stop trading with Russia, have done the explanation of the comparatively light sentences imposed upon Thornton and Macdonald. For the comparatively light sentences imposed by the court upon the ten Russians who admitted guilt, no such explanation can be made. After all the harsh words that have been used in depicting the Soviet authorities as cruel and blood-thirsty, it must be admitted that the sentences of the Moscow court were marked with humanity.

The two great men were interested in the case, and not willing to let them go into new companies. But Curd would not be defeated. He and Napier gave an order for three steamships to be delivered in 1940. Curd being, meantime, awarded the mail carrying contract. He stood by the work, and on July 4, 1940 stood on the deck of the Britannia as she steamed out from Liverpool under the auspices of the British North American Steam Packet Company, which was soon to become the Cunard Line. Fourteen days later the Britannia steamed into Halifax harbor and the Atlantic steam service was an accomplished fact.

From 1840 to 1940 Curd acquired more steamships and won the monopoly of the Atlantic service by the ten per cent preference to which the order away from the other Baltic countries. If so, many a Canadian lumberman will bless the day of Curd's arrival in Halifax, which British had agreed to accept 380,000 board feet from Russia.

Finland, Sweden and probably United States are now so situated that they are now it is taken away from Russia. With the pound and the dollar coming close to parity, thanks to remaining in the pound sterling to slash the order away from the other Baltic countries. If so, many a Canadian lumberman will bless the day of Curd's arrival in Halifax, which British had agreed to accept 380,000 board feet from Russia.

Now that the trials are over and the sentences have been pronounced, the impression grows that the accused were given a substantially fair trial. It was not a trial under British rules, which held that the accused is innocent until he is proved guilty, or that would rather go by jury except than one innocent person should be adjudged guilty. Much of the procedure was strange to British readers, but substantial justice is provided for under the Russian judicial system is a fair assumption.

AGREEMENT IN ANGLO-PERSIA OIL DISPUTE

Compromise Reached Between Company and Government

TEHERAN, Persia, April 28.—An agreement in principle has been reached in the Anglo-Persian oil dispute, it was understood today. The agreement provides that, if reported, that instead of 16 per cent of the profit, as was understood, the Persians would receive four and a half per cent for the oil extracted.

The Anglo-Persian oil company undertakes to extract a minimum of 5,000,000 tons annually, according to Persia a minimum of 1,000,000 tons a year.

The company also agrees to a payment of £2,000,000 in settlement of the Persian government's claims, plus tax arrears for which Persia has been contending.

The Anglo-Persian company started last November when the Persian government cancelled the concession of the Anglo-Persian oil

Police To Make Drive Against "Skillo" Boards

Police will open a drive Monday against "skillo" and "pin-ball" boards in the city, announced Chief A. G. Shute Friday morning. Operators of the "skillo" boards will be warned by the authorities to take out the machines and if no action is taken of the warning, prosecution will follow, said the chief.

A short time ago Chief Shute stated that operators of "skillo" and "pin-ball" machines would not be molested. That was the time Calgary police started a drive against such machines. Making a decision of that city was the decision against the "skillo" boards, which were being brangled the machines as gambling devices.

That some board operators award prizes for high scores while some do not, makes no difference in the eyes of city police. All will be liable for prosecution unless the boards are removed by Monday.

Company, alleging that the concession was granted prior to the establishment of a constitutional regime in Persia and did not sufficiently protect Persian interests.

Still Wait Word On Extradition Of Wanted Man

Officials of the attorney-general's department are still awaiting word from Washington as to the disposition of the extradition proceedings against William and Kenneth McLean, now prisoners in the Knoxville jail, and wanted here as alleged slayers of W. J. Parrish, a Montreal man.

J. J. Frawley of the attorney-general's department recently returned from Knoxville where he attended the hearing of the extradition proceedings, the first carried out under the new treaty between Britain and the United States.

The findings of the court were forwarded to Washington for review by the state department, it was learned today. The extradition proceedings, the first carried out under the new treaty between Britain and the United States.

Augustine Island Volcano Erupting

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 28.—Today that Augustine Island at the mouth of the Klamath river, where volcanoes had previously erupted, was again erupting.

The island, 100 miles south of Seattle, is about five miles in diameter and one or more trappers lived on it.

Mangrove trees do not, they would be swept away by the water which rises to the top of the island. The young plants are developed on the "tree island" and then fall like the trees into the mud below.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

Thomas In Dreier Role

HOLLYWOOD, April 28.—Inter-esting facts about the movies and the movie colony are being revealed by the new book, "The Life of a Movie Star" by Thomas Dreier. The book is a collection of intimate glimpses and inside stuff on the movie colony.

Ma West has introduced a new star in Hollywood. It's silver-colored hair. Claude Colbert has just learned that the champion midget producer of Fox is named "The American" based on the life of the late Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago.

Gary Cooper is having his car all tuned up for an attempt on the American stock car speed record. He has driven it 125 miles an hour and believes that he will be able to hit 150.

An actual rainbow will be seen in "Service," being the first time that this particular work of nature has been shown on the silver screen. Oliver Marsh filmed it sometime ago just as an experiment.

Before she ever appeared on the screen in this country, Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of her, the actress, was the girl who had married Robert Montgomery. Mr. Montgomery's maiden name being Elizabeth "Jennie" Gerhardt.

There is a ball game restaurant where the show in which she was playing became a success.

Gordon Westcott owns three gold mines—but none have any gold in them. He must be taking money with promoters.

John Harlow never uses any make-up except lipstick for street scenes.

Margaret Lindsay calls all of her friends "Galsies" and "Galsies" never make embarrassing mistakes on the phone.

Mary Astor, above, has been signed for one of the principal parts in the picture to be made from Theodore Dreier's novel, "Jennie Gerhardt."

New Income Tax Rule Deals With Natural Resources Development

Provision for the return of capital investment in natural resources which are being exhausted is made in a ruling under the Income Tax Act, according to the Hon. Mr. E. G. Reid, provincial treasurer.

This ruling is a departure from the practice followed during the last year, although it will be made known in the course of operations carried out in 1933 but not in 1932.

In the case of oil and gas wells, allowance for exhaustion is to be 25 per cent of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, exclusive of interest on any amount equal to any rents, royalties or bonuses paid or incurred by the taxpayer in connection with the property. Such an allowance shall not exceed 50 per cent of the net income of the taxpayer-computed with the allowance for exhaustion from the property.

NO FURTHER DEDUCTIONS

When the sum of the credits for exhaustion equals a value of the producing property as the miner may determine, the subsequent allowable capital additions then no further deductions for exhaustion with respect to the property shall be allowed. If the oil and gas are not natural resources, but are manufactured or converted into a refined product, no further deductions for exhaustion prior to sale, then the gross income shall be assumed to be 50 per cent of the market or field price of the oil and gas before conversion or transportation.

In cases where the taxpayer is engaged in producing and carrying on activities such as operating mines and transportation lines, such expenses as cannot be directly attributed to any specific activity shall be allocated to the production of oil and gas on the basis of the ratio between the operating expenses directly attributable to the production of oil and gas and the ratio of the total operating expenses.

When the taxpayer is engaged in carrying on operations covering such matters as:

WHEAT FUTURES ONE CENT UNDER PREVIOUS CLOSE

WINNIPEG, April 28.—Declining market, but steady throughout the session, wheat futures accelerated their pace in the closing minutes. May futures closed at a cent under the previous close on the Winnipeg grain market today.

Today's session was practically without feature and trading was quiet throughout. Not even in the last few minutes, as further liquidation by tired holders came into the pit, did trading speed up.

Values did downward rapidly but quickly and the closing range of one to five cent lower was marked up with some usual tumultuous finish. May futures closed at 58 1/2, July at 59 1/2 and October at 59 1/2, c.m.

Overseas advice failed to create any enthusiasm and there was some news in Canadian news to stimulate buying interest. Markets were dependent on import buying which failed to develop to an appreciable extent.

Chicago and Buenos Aires quotations were fractionally lower, while Chicago prices slipped almost two cents.

A feature of the week's statistics was smaller movement of wheat from the west than 200,000 bushels have been shipped, according to the Canadian Wheat Board.

Grain exports of wheat from the west, according to the Canadian Wheat Board, were 1,300,000 bushels to a total of 4,700,000 bushels this week.

Trading in cash and coarse grains was slow and sporadic, with prices generally unchanged.

TORONTO, April 28.—Steers, $5, other cattle, $4.35.
 Bacon hog, $5.50; select, $1 per head

Resin and resonance. John McCormack, famous operatic tenor, recently took charge of young boxers at a Catholic boys' club in New York city—performed his duties knowingly

Aquatic equestrians? Three riders and their mounts come to grief at the water jump during the running of the Nomination race at the Bramham Moor Hunt point-to-point meeting held at Yorks, England

Foreign competition presents a pretty little bit of fish to Ben Pine, skipper of the Gertrude L. Threland (was to have raced the Bhenose at World's Fair). He heads a deputation to Washington to protest "dumping"

Doris Kenyon to wed again. Doris, widow of the late Milton Sills, has announced her engagement to Arthur Hopkins, wealthy Syracuse business man. They have known each other since childhood

Chinese girl is tennis sensation at twelve. Miss Jem Hoahing, who only recently attracted attention, pictured at Rochampton, England, where she defeated the expert, Miss Hewitt

The bicycle fad has been put to practical use by Mrs. Younger and Mrs. Piper, Chicago society matrons. They collect odds and ends to sell at their infants welfare thrift shop

Lowering buoy over the grave of the Akron off Barnegat Light, N.J. A giant sea buoy is lowered over the side of the lightship Tulip to mark the spot where the remains of the dirigible were located

On the first leg of another polar expedition. Sir Hubert Wilkins and Lady Wilkins said for Europe. Sir Hubert is headed for the north pole to co-operate with Lincoln Ellsworth and Bent Balchen, aerial explorers

Italo Balbo, Italian minister of aviation (with board) escorts Captain Hermann Wilhelm Goering, right-hand man of Germany's Adolf Hitler, who called to discuss relations with Premier Mussolini

If they keep at it they'll probably be knocking out. George Bothner, top, and Rollin Wilson have Father Time on the mat. Both are nearing the 60 mark. Bothner was once world's lightweight champion

Gerhard Zucker, engineer, of Daimler-Benz, Germany, prominent in the rocket racket, intended this for the moon. It started off well, rose fifty meters then plunged into the ocean

This remarkable action photograph shows Dainty Dick going places in a hurry. In 1931 he was considered one of the best flat racers but now he stars as a hurdler at London's Harringway course

April showers bring forth more than May flowers—there's Margaret Westberg, for instance. Margaret, Los Angeles ballet dancer, isn't the least bit depressed by the weatherman's foibles, no sir

THE MINNIES

The Minnies both seemed to know that they had helped out on a show. All of a sudden they both stopped and took a real nice bow.

to death. I'm going to close my eyes. Please tell me when the trick is done. The other Times raced along to lend a hand. It things went wrong. The elephants, of course, were slow. That's how they always run.

Couch Covers and Bed Throws—Special!

Pretty in pastel tints, or vivid in Indian patternings, these coverings are rare good value! They're a thick fluffy weave — the bedroom throws with satiny ribbon bindings. The 60 x 80 inch size. SATURDAY

EACH, $1.59

—Bedding Section, Second Floor

EATON'S Larger White Sheets—Hemstitched

When the fabric of a sheet is fine yet firm in weave, soft and fully bleached yet very durable, it's seldom at so low a price! And these sheets are longer — 96 inches, in the double-bed 80-inch width. Hemstitched. SATURDAY

PAIR, $1.95

—Linen Section, Second Floor

300 New Handbags—Mostly Leather

Clearway from a well-known maker: the pouches and underarm bags for which you'd expect to pay $1.95, ordinarily. Smooth leathers, and pebbly grained effects, in the favored shades. All well lined and fitted, some with metal slide fastenings. SATURDAY, 8:30 SPECIAL

EACH, $1.00

—Handbag Section, Main Floor

500 Pieces Bright Costume Jewelry

A sparkling new collection of the novel accessories that just "make" a costume. Chokers, necklets, earrings, brooches and bracelets — and every piece at just half its usual marking. A host of colors — clever metallics — a "buy" to delight you! SATURDAY, 8:30 SPECIAL

PIECE OR SET, 50c

—Costume Jewelry, Main Floor

100 Pairs Stamped Linen Pillow Slips

Set yourself the fascinating task of embroidering a pair of these slips. The linen is fine, and bleached to a snowy whiteness. Several stamped designs for choice, bordered with fine hemstitching. The 42-inch width. Usually $1.25 a pair. SATURDAY, 8:30 SPECIAL

—Pillow Slips, Second Floor

100 Stamped Linen Tea Cloths

A fine white linen cloth you'd use for a bridge supper or luncheon, for the tea or supper table. It's the 36-inch size, with wide borders hemstitched. Several designs to embroider. Usually $1.25. SATURDAY, 8:30 SPECIAL

SET, 95c

—Stamped Goods, Second Floor

A Special Purchase of Axminster Rugs

Again EATON purchasing makes possible a value extraordinary! Handsome rugs of Axminster weave — thickly piled, glossy in finish and patterned in rich Oriental or floral motifs. A perfect rug for the dining or living room. Sizes 4.6 x 7.6 ft. and 6.9 x 9 ft. Usually $13.50 and $24.50. SATURDAY

$10.75 and $19.50

—Rugs, Third Floor, Annex

100 Pairs Frilly Marquisette Curtains

Seldom curtains like these ask less than "dollar-fifty" — and that's a modest estimate! The filmy fabric is of ivory shade, with woven dots in the same tone, and woven "broken line" designs in bright colors. Frills, valance and tie backs complete — the 31-inch width. SATURDAY

—Curtains, Second Floor, Annex

10-Tube 1933 Console Radios—Seven Only

From a Famous Maker — New, and Fully Guaranteed

One of the radio "buys" of the season — another EATON achievement in favor of your 1933 budget. A console radio in a handsome walnut cabinet — not a "stencil" set but the first grade design of this famous maker. EATON guaranteed. Seven machines only. SPECIAL

$67.50

—Radios, Second Floor, Annex
